

WOODLAKE UNION HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT FOUNDATION

Woodlake High School Foundation

Spring 2008

Message from the President:

Exciting things have occurred during the first two terms. The voters of WHS district approved the passage of Measure C that will allow major improvements in the school's facilities. The Foundation's fall golf tournament was successful. Principal Nicole Glentzer and Assistant Principal Tony Casares continue to keep learning exciting for our students with high expectations.

The Scholarship Committee is starting to gear up for a very busy spring. Our 2008 graduates are applying for scholarships and grants getting prepared for the next phase in their lives. Last year over $400,000 in scholarships was received by our students. The Foundation is always seeking new scholarships for our students.

The Foundation's continuing Bleacher Project has almost reached its goal. We hope to complete the bleachers with an additional $24,000 needed to finalize the home side. Measure C Bonds will replace the visitor's side bleachers plus added bathrooms and a visitors' concession stand. Additionally, we still need to complete the home side with donations.

This issue of our newsletter features some alumni who have been recognized for outstanding work. As usual, we rely on you and other supporters of Woodlake High School to let us know of other Woodlake graduates and what they are currently doing. If you know of someone you would like to see featured, please contact our newsletter editor, Sally Pace, at runningp@clearwire.net. We want to make sure our readers know what an impact our graduates have on our future.

Again, on behalf of the Foundation Board, I want to thank you for your continued support of our activities. We are reliant on your continued backing to have an impact on our students. I hope you enjoy this issue.

Sincerely,

Diana Percy

Gregorio (Greg) Gonzalez: Man of the Year

It's no surprise that in high school, Greg was voted 'Friendliest,' 'Most Spirited' and 'Most Popular.' He graduated from WHS with the class of 1990. Ten years later he has completed his college studies at C.O.S., and Fresno State, receiving his BA in Liberal Studies in 2005. He is currently pursuing a Masters in Social Work.

Family is very important to our Man of the Year. He and his wife Linda have three children: Gregorio III, Mia Lupita, and Sebastian.

Gregorio worked several years at Woodlake Growers Supply, the local feed store. When business was slow, he was known to sit and visit for a spell with many of the regular customers. When speaking to others of this young man, it was his good manners, listening skills and friendliness that were mentioned. If you meet Greg anywhere, he greets you with a firm handshake and a warm smile, maybe even a bear hug! His sense of humor is one of his greatest attributes along with his ability to tell a story. He seems to know and be known by almost everyone in Woodlake.

Most people meet Gregorio, now at the Woodlake Family Resource Center, where he has been employed since 2000. His positive outlook on life empowers, motivates and provides hope when all else seems hopeless. He is an inspiration to those who work with him and to those he labors for. Greg's enthusiasm keeps the WFRC going in a positive direction. Greg provides ongoing supervision that inspires and motivates through effective communication, respect, accountability, consistency and follow-through. He has improved the connection of parents, students and the school, especially with the migrant population. The diverse staff at WFRC deals with many different community issues, and Greg seems to have an instantaneous connection with any and all types of people – from the highly educated to the homeless. He can be trusted with the most fragile people. Greg is approachable as well; you immediately feel comfortable with him.

Two things that Greg has committed himself to in his spare time are AYSO soccer and the Woodlake Kiwanis Club. He just finished his term as Kiwanis President, where he did an outstanding job, keeping the membership numbers climbing, and the members active and working together. He has also been a YMCA basketball coach and regularly volunteers his time for trash pick-up and graffiti clean-up around town. Greg is not just a team player, his enthusiasm and charisma make him a team builder. He inspires others to work hard through his constant encouragement and his own example of dedication and hard work. Greg just completed the two-year Leadership Visalia program, learning how to connect with organizations and agencies that will help make a positive impact on Woodlake. He is committed to putting Woodlake "on the map;" but don't be fooled by his easy-going charm. This is one dynamic guy with an amazing work ethic. When he is involved with a project, it gets done right and on time.

WHS Alumni award winners...

Juan Manzano: Class of 2007

National FFA Proficiency Winner

For the first time, Woodlake High School has a National FFA Proficiency Winner. Juan Manzano has been awarded National Proficiency Winner in the area of Specialty Animal Production. Juan and his family moved from Mexico to Woodlake about nine years ago. Juan was ten years old at the time and spoke no English. Juan graduated in 2007 from Woodlake High School and is currently attending Reedley Community College.

At the beginning of last year, Juan completed a proficiency application detailing the honey bee business he started and has been building over the past five years. Juan became interested in bee and honey production from watching his dad work with bees when he was just 11 years old. Juan would help his dad from time to time until the end of his 8th grade year. In the spring of 2003, Juan approached his dad and asked if he could have his own bee hives to work with and make money. He made an agreement that his dad would loan him the money to purchase 25 bee hives. In return, Juan would have to pay him back within a year of starting his project. He began this project with the 25 hives and began building new hive boxes and splitting his bees to form new hives. He currently owns 1000 bee hives which he rents out to farmers to assist with pollination of various crops. He also collects the honey produced from the bees and sells in bulk to a company that distributes it worldwide.

In the spring of 2007, Juan was announced the California State Proficiency Winner in the category of specialty animals. His application continued on to the National Organization and was selected as finalist (top four) in the Nation. Juan then traveled to Indianapolis, Indiana in October 2007, and interviewed in front of a panel of fifteen judges. The following day, Juan was announced as the first student from Woodlake High School to ever receive a National FFA Award of this magnitude. He has currently completed an application and is a state finalist in the Star in Agribusiness Award.

The announcement of the winner of this award will be at the State FFA Leadership Conference in April.

Juan is currently attending Reedley College and enrolled in the CAT diesel mechanics program. He feels this will improve his business by allowing him to repair his own equipment. Juan and his family have also completed all the requirements needed to obtain citizenship. He should officially be a U.S. citizen by the year's end.

Juan said to a reporter from the Fresno Bee that sums up his success. He stated, "Right here in America if you come with the goals of succeeding, you can achieve anything."

Carie Dever-Boaz: Class of 1986

Coach of NPF World Series Champions

While at WHS Carie played Varsity Volleyball for four years, Varsity Basketball for four years and Varsity Softball for three years. She helped win four league titles in volleyball, basketball and all three years in softball, as well as the valley championship in volleyball 1985. She also competed in the state basketball championship in 1984 and 1985.

In 1986 Carie signed a full scholarship with Fresno State University to play softball. She helped win conference titles all four years, competed in four Women's College World Series. She was a three time NCAA All American, two time All Academic All American, two time Women's College World Series All Tournament Team, Big West Female Athlete of the Year in 1990, George Ilg Athletic and Academic Excellence Award.

Carie started her teaching career at Tulare Western High School in 1990. In 1993 she moved to the University of South Carolina as assistant Softball Coach and then on the University of Arkansas as head coach. In 1999 she was SEC Coach of the year. In 2005 she moved to the University of Florida, then to the University of Virginia. In 2007 she retired from college coaching to take the Head Managers position with the new franchise, Washington DC Glory, in the Nation Pro Fastpitch League. The Glory broke the NPF league home won record. Carie was named Manager/Coach of the year.

Carie has been married for 14 years to Bruce Dever-Boaz. They have one son named Max (12 years old) and are expecting their second child, a little girl they will name Macie Marie in May. Currently they live on a ranch in Senatobia, Mississippi.

"Woodlake is such a special place in my heart and is one of the biggest reasons I have experienced so much success in life. It was a place that taught me that anything in life is possible and if you want it, go get it... No matter where I live or where I go, Woodlake will always be my home. I will carry coach Ainley's words with me forever.....Once a Tiger, Always a Tiger! How true that is and only by the grace of God can one be so lucky."

You can learn more about Carie at www.whstigers.org

Carie and a member of The Washington Glory National Championship Team

Leeanne Crain: Class of 1983

Head Coach of OU Rowing Program

Leeanne Crain attended Woodlake High School from 1980-83, playing volleyball, basketball, and softball. She was coached by Frank Ainley, Marvin Welch, and Louise Achenbach. She attended COS for two years and then transferred to UCLA.

She had an outstanding three year career from 1985-88 on the varsity crew (rowing). As a senior, she was named team captain, MVP and PAC-10 all conference. She went on to train for the US National Team in 1988 and 1990. She won a gold medal in the women's four at the Cadbury International Regatta in Australia and was a grand finalist in the women's pair at the 1990 World Championship Trials.

She started coaching at UCLA in 1990-1 as an assistant. She then coached at the University of San Diego from 1993-2003. She was named West Coast Conference (WCC) Coach of the year in 1997 and 2003. While at USD, she coached two All-Americans and had two rowers named to the Collegiate Rowing Coaches Association (CRCA) All Region Team. Her student-athletes accounted for 15 All-WCC honors and six Western Intercollegiate Rowing Association (WIRA) all-conference honors. Also, 16 earned WCC All-Academic distinction, 13 were CRCA National Scholar-Athlete recipients and two were named All-Americans by the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

At USD, Crain coached Ali Cox, a four-time U. S. National Team member who won a silver medal in the women's eight at the 2004 Olympics in Athens, Greece.

She then coached at the University of Central Florida from 2003 to 2007, developing the Knights into one of the nations premier programs. At UCF she had two All-America honors and seven all-region honors and 20 Knights earned CRCA National Scholar-Athlete recognition, including a nation-leading seven honorees in 2006.

Her 2006-7 team recorded the best season in UCF history, opening the season with nine consecutive victories. The team earned UCF's highest all-time national ranking (No. 9) in the US Rowing/CRCA Coaches poll.

In March of 2008, University of Oklahoma President David L. Boren announced the hiring of Leeanne Crain as the first head coach of its new rowing program. He said, "Coach Crain has established herself as one of the best rowing coaches in the nation. As the team is being put together, we will also soon begin construction on the new Aubrey McClendon OU Boathouse along the race course of the Oklahoma River in Oklahoma City."

An active member of the rowing community, Crain served on the NCAA Rowing Committee from 2001-5, and has been chair of both the NCAA West (2001-3) and South (2003-07) Regional Advisory Committees. She also served as Vice President of the Florida Intercollegiate Rowing Association and on the WIRA Board of Stewards from 2002-03

Steve Cory Class of 1983

Featured in Craftedhome magazine

Steve Cory was featured in the November 2007 issue of Craftedhome magazine. Steve attended Woodlake schools from 4th grade through 10th grade. He now lives in Exeter with his wife Leigh (married 20 years this June), daughter Rachel 12, and son Brandon 10.

"The City of Woodlake has been really great to work with. They have made this process as easy as possible. I feel very blessed to be back in my hometown."

Since 1989, owner of Cory Marble and Granite, Steve Cory, has been "striving to meet the needs and exceed the expectations of homeowners, contractors, designers and developers" in Tulare County, specifically in the Visalia area. He is sincere when he states, "We offer our clients a unique blend of high-level craftsmanship combined with today's state-of-the-art CNC (computer numerically controlled) technology."

Although the fabrication plant isn't generally open to the public, the process is incredibly interesting to witness. Huge slabs of granite and marble and other stone are stored on their edges in racks, while remnants are stacked or leaned against the inner and outer walls of the building.

Before Steve started his business in Tulare County he spent ten years in the San Diego area working as a tile contractor and had eventually become proficient in slab rock fabrication and installation. Although raised and schooled in the Visalia area, he left to attend college in southern California where he met his bride-to-be. They married and eventually made their home in Exeter over 15 years ago. Steve says his family places first in his life. His son or daughter can often be seen riding along with him to meetings with clients or helping out at the fabrication plant. However, Steve reserves weekends for family outings or just relaxing at home with his wife and children.

Cory Marble & Granite caters mostly to new construction -60% new, 40% remodel – and encompasses areas from Los Angeles to Bass Lake. Plans are in the works for a new fabrication plant in the Woodlake area that will cover 20,000 square feet of space on four and a half acres. This is a truly magnificent undertaking for this energetic young man and his family, and it's easy to visualize his children working right alongside their dad one day in the future . . . after college, of course.

The WHS Jazz Band provided pre-dinner entertainment.

WHS STUDENT AWARDED PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Alley Reeves was awarded player of the year by the Visalia Times Delta and recognized as Co-East Sequoia League MVP. Alley, while in everyday life is a fun loving, average teenager, is a true Tiger on the basketball court. It would be hard to find another player in the Central Section with as good a record, coming in second in scoring (with a 19.7 points per game average), rebounding (with nearly 16 rebounds per game), and steals (with an astounding six steals per game). She also led the Tigers in assists. It was because of such a record that she was awarded an All-Area Second Team by the Fresno Bee Sports reporter.

Commenting on this, Coach Kristofer Schlossin, who himself was named Coach of the Year said of Alley, "She was the one single player that can change the course of an entire game all by herself."

Alley has been accepted to CSU Chico, CSU San Marcos, CSU Fullerton, and CSU Fresno, and will soon make a decision as to which college she will attend.

Todd Peltzer: Class of 1982

Basketball "Coach of the Year"

While at Woodlake High School, Todd was a three-sport athlete. He was a two-time All-American in both football and basketball and a three-time All-American in baseball. He was team Most Valuable Player in both basketball and baseball. No wonder that we would presently find him at the position of Head Varsity Basketball Coach at Golden West High School in Visalia! Todd began coaching at Golden West for the 2000 season as an assistant Varsity Coach, then took over the Junior Varsity team in 2003. In his first year as Varsity Coach (2005-6) he was Most Valuable Coach for the West Yosemite League and then chosen as "Coach of the Year" for all of Tulare County. At the Varsity level, Todd coached his brother's (Terry Peltzer, WHS Class of 1976) sons, Michael & Stephen. Both nephews were selected for the "First Team All League" as seniors. This year he had his own son, Todd II, on the team. Todd, as a junior, made honorable mention for

All League. Todd is married to his high school sweetheart, Quinn Owen Peltzer. (Also WHS Class of 1982) Quinn is a School Psychologist for Visalia City School District.

James "Tracy" Purpuro: Class of 1984

'07 March Meet NE III Winner

James "Tracy" Purpuro graduated from Humboldt State University in 2000 with a Bachelors of Science Degree with a major in Fisheries. Tracy is employed by the California Department of Fish & Game as a Fisheries Biologist and currently lives in Three Rivers.

Tracy's hobbies include drag racing, fly fishing, and photography. He shares a 1933 Bantam Alter drag racing car with his dad. Dad works on the car and Tracy races it! Tracy won the 2007 March Meet for class Nostalgia Eliminator Three (NE III) at Famoso, California and is pictured in the magazine printed for the 2008 March Meet.

Rio Delta School Field Teacher of the Year

Ryan Pace graduated from Woodlake High School in 1992. After graduation he attended California Sate University, Chico where he earned a BA in Art and a secondary teaching credential. He currently teaches Art and coaches golf in Rio vista where he has been employed for the past ten years. This year Ryan was named the River Delta Unified teacher of the year. River Delta is an eight school district just south of Sacramento. When asked about the award Mr. Pace said "We have many quality teachers in our district and it is an honor to be selected as the teacher of the year." Ryan lives in Courtland, California with his wife Reina, son Seth (4) and daughter Corinne (2).

A Barding Experience:

Paving the Way to Higher Level Thinking Skills

By: Adriana Plascencia

Over the course of the past three years, a young group of imperative teachers have given up their free time and fruitfulness efforts to gather together and cohesively develop curricula and teaching practices that advance writing and thinking within our classrooms. The group meets throughout the year to come together in a collaborative group for "the meeting of the minds."

During these sessions a selected group of teachers, engage in professional development related to teacher's knowledge based in the areas of content and pedagogical knowledge. They examine the current status of our students and their needs and critique and reflect on the progress throughout the year. All this has been made possible by an outside organization that looks to give back to their community. Paramount Farms, partnered with Bard University, has made all this possible. They have paved the way toward a common goal that most of the time is only dreamt about by teachers. Here, in these workshops, teachers have come together to critique and reflect how common writing practices and higher level thinking techniques are sufficiently impacting the lives our student population.

More importantly, lessons are created and continue to develop throughout the years. With the assistance of Bard University, the work that these teachers have put in has laid the foundation for a brand new educational facility in Delano, California. This school will utilize the writing and higher learning thinking ideas that began to flourish three years ago.

There is no doubt that this group will continue to thrive in new educational ideas that focus on the process of writing rather than the output. Developing these higher learning thinking skills in a vastly ever changing student population, is key to providing the nation with future leaders rather than followers.

Carmita Rodriguez-Peña

Head Counselor at WHS

Going back to college after taking a break is a challenging experience. I decided to go back to school to obtain an Administrative Service Credential. I was fortunate to get accepted into the Chancellor's Fellowship Program through Fresno State. It was an intensive 18 month program which required a lot of time and was extremely demanding. The Fresno State Administrative Program focuses on developing leadership and coaching skills. Coming from a counseling background many things were related but others were new concepts. The programs primary goal is to put students first! Everything we do in education must focus on what is best for students! The resources and skills that the program introduces to you are valuable tools that may be used in different career settings. Anyone interested in management would benefit from completing an administrative program.

Debbie Robinson Stevenson

Academic Coach

Debbie Robinson Stevenson is currently the Academic Coach at Castle Rock Elementary School. Before this, Debbie worked twelve years as a fourth grade teacher. In August of 2006, she started taking classes for her masters in educational leadership and for her administration credential. Since then she has continued to take the required coursework and will finish with her graduation on May 17, 2008.

Sports Update

Is it possible that two-thirds of the 07-08 year is behind us? In athletics, we have been busy Tigers. The Fall of 07 was a season of success for many. Led by Ramon Guzman, the boy's cross country team came in second place to league champion Parlier. The girls also placed second behind CVC. The girls' volleyball team had a great season, coming in second led by all league selection Alley Reeves and Cat Garcia. The girls made the playoffs for the second year in a row but lost in the first round in 4 games to Sierra of Tollhouse. The football program finished a frustrating season by winning a thrilling season ending game against long time rival Orosi. The true stars of the fall were the League Champion girls' tennis team. The team was led by League champ Priscilla Ruiz and seniors Karah Letson and Karla Thompson. Coach Judson's girls once again hosted a playoff match against Wasco and the team lost by a single game to the visiting Tigers.

The Winter brought some great competition to a cold and rainy January and February. In soccer, the girls' team tied for second with Parlier. As luck would have it, they hosted Parlier in the second round of the playoffs but lost 4-3 in an overtime thriller. The boy's team qualified for the playoffs by winning their last game of the league schedule, 1-0 over CVC. Interim head coach Fred Palomo did an outstanding job filling in for Roy Guerra. Boys' basketball finished the season on a winning note, playing maybe their best game of the year against Orosi. The wrestling team completed their season by hosting the league tournament here in Woodlake. The Tigers were well represented by league champions Santiago Lara and Tyson Pinon. Like the Fall season, the girls' team seemed to provide most of the exciting drama during the winter. This time the girls' basketball team beat multi-year defending champion, Corcoran in overtime at the Tiger gym to capture a share of the ESL crown. Led by Seniors Alley Reeves, Jaime Guerra and Maria Campos, first year head coach Chris Schlossin was able to make the girls believe in themselves enough to win a championship for the first time in over a decade. Congratulations Tigers and thanks for the memories you have given us during the Fall and Winter!!!!

Superintendent's Message

Spring has sprung and in fine fashion. Seeing the poppies and other wild flowers coloring the green hills under a backdrop of snow covered mountain tops is truly one of life's simple pleasures here in Woodlake. If that is not enough, the passage of Measure C should help bring a spring to your step. This General Obligation Bond will generate $4.5 million to renovate many of our athletic facilities and bring much needed additional classrooms and restrooms to our campuses. I want to thank everyone who campaigned, supported and cast their vote in favor of Measure C. It is going to put the finishing touches on our High School campus that will compliment the already top level facilities we provide the students and community of Woodlake.

If you have not already made arrangements with our counseling department to serve as a Senior Exit Interview Committee member, please do so. I highly encourage everyone who can, to participate in this rewarding activity. It will give you an opportunity to stay in touch with the education and social development of our students. We are very proud of the complete education WHS provides the students in this community and this is your opportunity to be a part of that tradition.

Thank you again for your support of Measure C and all that goes into making WHS such a promising place for students and those who choose to work to that end.

Sincerely,

Tim Hire

In Loving Memory of

William (Bill) Edward Ferry of Woodlake, CA, passed away peacefully on Sunday, December 30, 2007. He was 87 years old, born on September 25, 1920, in Pomona, CA, to William and Susan Ferry.

After losing his father at an early age, his mother remarried to Bill Haas. At age 16, they moved to Woodlake where Bill graduated from Woodlake High school and then attended UC Davis.

Bill farmed citrus, olives and raised cattle for almost 60 years. He was married to Ernesteen Mayfield for 62 years. They had three beautiful children: Joan, Pamela and Billy, and was also blessed with 6 grandchildren and 5 great grandchildren.

He was a lifetime member of the Woodlake Lions Club. He took on an active role in putting together their annual PRCA Rodeo. He also enjoyed golfing, fishing, hunting and camping in the Sierras.

Bill served on the Woodlake High School Board of Directors for 25 years. He saw a lot of changes throughout his service. He was instrumental in the planning of the original Courtney McCracken swimming pool, Library, and the School Farm where students today still learn about farming and raising animals.

He always understood the value of education. Not being able to finish his higher education was one of his life long regrets. He made sure his children and grandchildren had the opportunity to achieve a diploma in whatever field interested them. He never pushed a certain profession on to his family but simply supported the choices his children made and was happy to see them accomplish their educational goals.

Bill was an amazing man, never quick to judge but always quick to help whether it was for a family member or for a stranger, a true gentleman with a big heart. He was a genuine blessing in every life that he touched. He will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

The Bill Ferry Memorial Scholarship Fund through the Woodlake Lions Club will benefit one Woodlake High School graduate annually. We are pleased to have this memorial in recognition of his lifetime achievements. Donations to the Bill Ferry Memorial Scholarship Fund may be sent to Woodlake Lions Club, P.O. Box 545, Woodlake, CA 93286.
